

PRESIDENT WILL RECOMMEND R. R. LEGISLATION

In His Address to Congress President Wilson Will Urge Practically the Same Legislation as Was Urged in his Special Message Last Summer.

IMMEDIATE ENLARGEMENT OF POWER REORGANIZATION OF COMMERCE COMMISSION

Lodging of Power in the Hands of Executive To Take Over Railroads Whenever Military Necessity Requires Such Action, Will Also be Asked.

Washington, D. C., November 21.—(Associated Press)—President Wilson's recommendations for railroad legislation in his address to Congress will be practically the same as those embodied in his special address last August, when a nation-wide railroad strike was pending.

In his special address, the President made six specific recommendations. Two, providing for an eight-hour day as a legal basis of work and of wages of railroads, and for a commission to observe the operation of the law, were embodied in the Adamson act.

The others which remained unacted upon, and which will be renewed by the President, are:

Immediate provision for the enlargement and administrative reorganization of the Inter-State Commerce Commission, along the lines embodied in the bill recently passed by the House of Representatives and now awaiting action by the Senate.

Explicit approval by Congress of the consideration by the Inter-State Commerce Commission of an increase of freight rates to meet such additional expenditures by the railroads as may have been rendered necessary by the adoption of the eight-hour day, and which have not been offset by administrative readjustments and economies should the facts disclosed justify the increase.

An amendment of the existing federal statute which provides for the mediation, conciliation, and arbitration of such controversies as the present, by adding to it a provision that in case the methods of accommodation now provided should fail, a full public investigation of the merits of every such dispute shall be instituted and completed before a strike or lockout may be lawfully attempted.

The lodgement in the hands of the executives of the power, in case of military necessity, to take control of such portions of such rolling stock of the railroads of the country as may be required for military use, and to operate them for military purposes with authority to draft into the military service of the United States such train crews and administrative officials as the circumstances require for their safe and efficient use.

DISASTER THREATENS ARMIES OF ROUMANIA

By Bold and Rapid Strokes Teutons Threaten to Envelope the Armies of Roumania Now in Precipitate Retreat.

(Associated Press Cable.)
LONDON, NOVEMBER 21.—BY BOLD AND RAPID STROKES, THE TEUTONIC INVADERS APPARENTLY HAVE CONQUERED A LARGE SECTION OF NORTHWESTERN WALLACHIA FROM THE ROUMANIANS.

Petrograd's official bulletin today announces a Roumanian retirement in this part of the battlefield 240 miles north of Craiova.

Judging from the recent reports of the operations, this means that converging attacks by Austro-German forces, moving southward in the Jiu Valley and eastward along the railway from Orsova, have compelled the Roumanians to withdraw from the Orsova region and execute a rapid retreat in the Jiu Valley.

This move was made, it appears, to prevent the retreat of their armies from being cut off.

Whether even the rapid retreat indicated has been in time to save the Roumanian armies in this region is rendered doubtful by the German announcement that Teutonic troops are now before Craiova.

The railroad running from Craiova to Bucharest affords the only convenient line of retreat for the Orsova and Jiu Valley armies.

While the Roumanians have evidently reached the junction point of the Jiu Valley road with the main line at Fillash, the loss of Craiova would effectively bar their way eastward except across country.

GREEKS REFUSE ALLIES' DEMAND

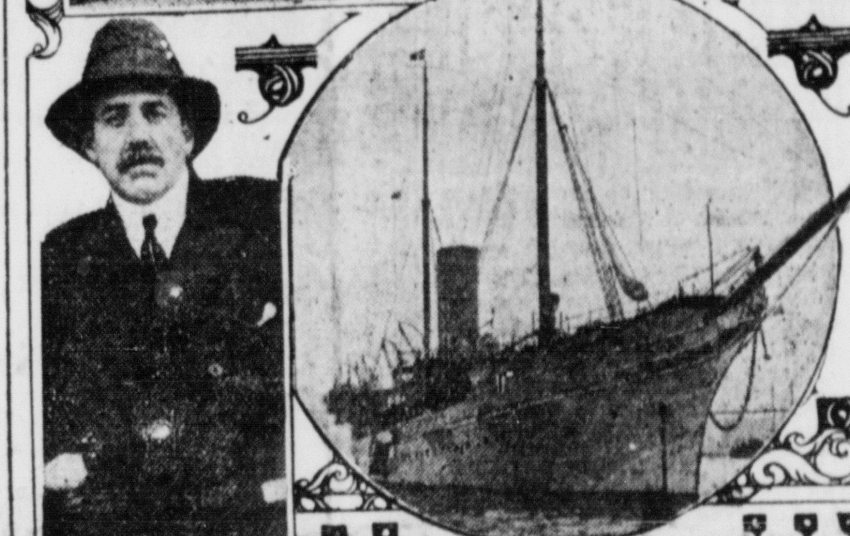

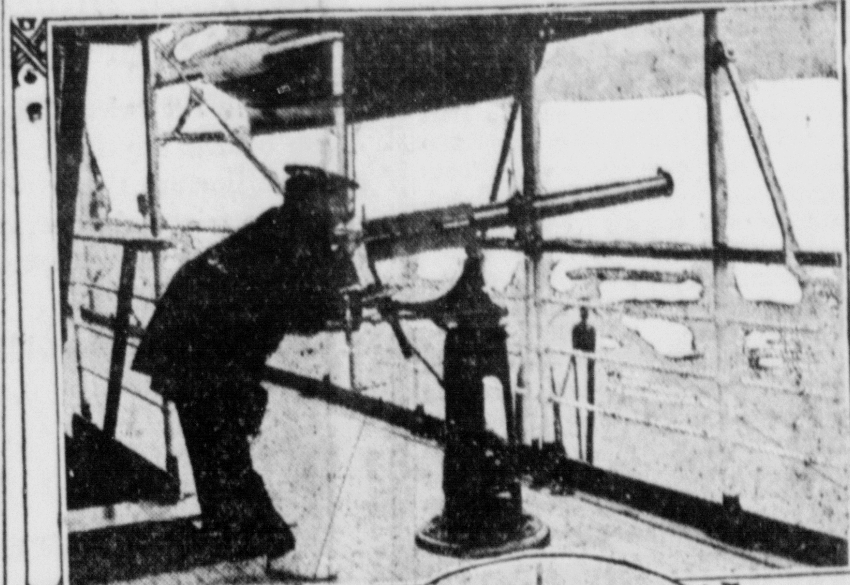

King Constantine Cheered as He Leaves Meeting.

Athens, Greece, November 21.—The Crown Council has decided, in principle, to refuse to surrender the arms and ammunition of Greece to the Allies, as demanded by Vice Admiral Du Fouquet, the commander of the Allied fleet.

King Constantine, on leaving the palace after the meeting, was cheered by a crowd which was waiting the conference's decision.

It is understood that Premier Lambros will remain in power for the present.

OFF TO EXPLORE THE AMAZON, GREATEST OF THE WORLD'S RIVERS

MACHINE GUN FOR DEFENCE. DR. ALEXANDER HAMILTON RICE and THE ALBERTA

Dr. and Mrs. Alexander Hamilton Rice (shown in picture) left New York with a party of scientists on the steam yacht Alberta (also seen in illustration) to explore the little known regions of the upper Amazon. The trip will last at least six months and the party will cover more than 5,000 miles.

This is the second trip that Dr. Rice has made to this region, but it is the first for Mrs. Rice, who before her marriage to the explorer a year ago, was the widow of George D. Widener, who was lost on the Titanic. She is the daughter of the late William L. Elkins.

The Alberta is owned by Commodore Frederick G. Bourne of New York city and was formerly the property of King Leopold II. of Belgium. It is commanded by Captain F. W. Baldwin and is fitted with the latest scientific instruments for exploration work.

The Alberta carries a crew of fifty-four and her speed is eighteen knots. She is armed with a machine gun for defense.

The party will touch first at Para and then at several ports along the Amazon, going up into the Cassiquiare canal. In his 1907 explorations, when for some time it was feared that he had been lost, Dr. Rice pushed through the canal region past Santa Isabel. This time he expects to finish charting that region, in addition to making investigations concerning native diseases and to a large extent cataloging the bird, fish and animal life.

Among those who accompany Dr. and Mrs. Rice are Dr. William T. Councilman, professor of pathology at Harvard; Ernest Howe, a geologist of Newport; Earl E. Church, of the United States coast and geodetic survey, and John W. Swanson of New York, a wireless operator.

INVESTMENTS BEEN HEAVY

Japanese Merchants and Exporters Gobble Up American Securities.

By Associated Press Dispatch.
New York, November 21.—Within the last six months Japanese merchants and exporters have invested nearly $50,000,000 in American securities, according to estimates in banking quarters.

For the most part, the securities were bonds, largely underlying railroad issues, although a substantial part consisted of mortgage bonds of industrial companies returning a high yield on the purchase price.

These investments are believed to be the outgrowth of the shifts of commerce directly traceable to the European war.

Japan has been shipping to the United States a great amount of goods formerly manufactured by Germany, and at the same time exports of silk and other Far Eastern products from Japan to this country have been stimulated because of the reduction in the European demand.

As a consequence, Japan's trade balance in this country has been growing steadily, producing credits which either had to be transferred to the owner or put to use here. The Japanese, in the main, have chosen the latter course.

MRS. BOISSEVAIN'S CONDITION UNCHANGED

A LAST CHANCE GIVEN MEXICAN COMMISSIONERS

Secretary of the Interior Lane, As Chairman of The American Commission, Informs Carranza's Representatives as to Withdrawal of Punitive Expeditionary Force From Mexico.

WILL NOT HAVE THE BORDER UNPROTECTED POWER TO RUN DOWN AND PUNISH BANDITS

Mexicans Aware of Determined Attitude of the Administration Are expected to Recede From Unreasonable Positions.

Atlantic City, N. J., November 21.—(Associated Press)—The American commissioners today gave to the Mexican commissioners what is understood to be the last opportunity for an amicable settlement of the problems that have arisen because of Carranza's failure to provide adequate protection for life and property along the international border.

In joint session, Secretary of the Interior Lane, as chairman of the American Commission, informed Mr. Carranza's representatives that the American punitive expedition will be withdrawn within a reasonable time, and under conditions that would not impair the dignity of the American Government or leave unprotected the territory just south of the border now patrolled by the Americans.

Incidental to such withdrawal, he outlined the manner in which the American Government was prepared to guard the long line of frontier and to run down and punish any marauding band that attempted a crossing into the United States.

He made it clear to the Mexicans that this Government would not tolerate any restrictions in the pursuit of bandits by American troops.

How Louis Carbreara, chairman of the Mexican Committee, and his colleagues received what is regarded as the last word of the American commissioners was not expected to be known until after the session came to an end this afternoon.

When Mr. Lane went into conference this morning, he carried with him the assurance of the President that he had unqualified backing of his plans.

The Mexicans were aware of the President's attitude, and it was regarded as probable that they would recede from the position they had taken.

Will Cause "Deep But Quiet Revolution," Says One Newspaper.

The paper declares that "Germany must emerge from the war a free parliamentary country, and everybody who is professionally engaged in sowing the seeds of international hatred should be punished."

D. T. & I. ORDERS 400 NEW AUTO BOX CARS

In order to maintain its record for speedy shipments in the face of constantly growing demands, The D. T. & I. Railroad has just placed an order for 400 new automobile box cars to be delivered as soon as they can be turned out by the builders.

These new cars are to be 40 feet long and of 40 tons capacity. The order represents one of the largest single orders ever placed for this kind of car, and follows on the heels of an order placed a few months ago for similar cars. Other new equipment will be ordered soon.

By loading automobiles and other goods at the Delray Terminals of the road, three to ten days' quicker shipments are possible by avoiding the greatly congested terminals at Detroit, and for this reason the transportation of autos over the D. T. & I. has shown a phenomenal growth.

MODERN IMPROVEMENT COMPLETED THIS WEEK

This week sees the completion of the two story addition and basement to the Hodson Memorial Hospital—an improvement which has been under way for some time.

The Hodson Hospital, the first hospital of the county, established six years ago, has been a most successful institution from the start and for some time the addition now finished at the rear has been greatly needed, both for the additional room and added convenience.

The big feature of the addition is the splendid new operating room which is now ready for occupancy. It is both cheerful and sanitary, everything pure white, with mosaic tile floor, white tile baseboard and white enamel wood work. In its entire arrangement and equipment it is thoroughly modern and elaborately complete, vieing with any operating room of the big city hospitals.

The light, always the feature of an operating room, pours in through north and east prism windows and a sky light in the daytime and the room is flooded with electric light by night.

Adjoining the new operating room is one of the most complete sterilizing rooms possible. It is equipped throughout with the very latest high pressure sterilizers and every up to date feature. A dumb waiter runs from the culinary department up stairs for the added convenience of the nurses.

The new operating and sterilizing rooms are only a part, but a most important part, of the extensive improvements just finished.

GRIMM CASE GOES TO JURY TODAY

Initial Effort of Young Member of the Bar, R. R. Maddox, Made in Opening Argument This Morning—Early Verdict Expected.

The taking of evidence in the case of Ohio against Matthew Grimm, was concluded late Monday afternoon and the jury dismissed until Tuesday morning.

The arguing of special charges occupied considerable time Monday evening.

Tuesday morning the arguments to the jury were started, with Attorney Ray R. Maddox opening the argument on behalf of the State. This was the young attorney's first argument to a jury, and being his initial argument, was given close attention by other members of the bar and the spectators. Mr. Maddox made a most favorable impression upon those who heard him, his argument at all times being clear, forceful and to the point, and he was roundly complimented upon effort.

The argument on behalf of the defendant was made by his attorney, P. A. Chaffin.

The closing argument was made by Prosecutor Tom S. Maddox who presented a careful array of fact calling for a conviction of the accused.

Tuesday afternoon Judge Carpenter gave his charge to the jury. An early verdict was expected.

MAN INJURED IN UNUSUAL MANNER

While pumping up an automobile tire at the White Vulcanizing plant on West Court street, Monday evening about five o'clock, Wilbur Thornton, farmer, was badly injured when the tube blew out and one of the iron rings used in fastening the tire in place, struck him in the head, inflicting a gash 2 inches in length and dazing him for quite a while.

In placing the tire in position he had neglected to fasten the iron ring in place, and when the pressure in the tire reached about 45 pounds the force was so great that it forced the ring off with great violence.

Thornton was taken into Dr. Howell's office, next door, and given medical attention. He is still suffering from the effects of the heavy blow, which nearly fractured his skull.

A few days ago two men in a Wilmington garage were badly injured in a similar manner, and for a short time it was feared one of them would not recover.

The Florida team won the first half by a score of 3 to 0. In the second half they lost two men, one with a broken ankle, and were seriously handicapped.

The final score of 14 to 0 was creditable considering they were pitted against a team ranking the best in the state.

In Social Circles

On account of the lecture course date falling on Tuesday, the Browning Club met Monday evening at 7:30, the President, Mrs. Haide VanWinkle Coffman, presiding.

The literary department offered a splendid program of readings and music. It being the annual Children's Hour, inaugurated by the chairman, Mrs. Elizabeth Carpenter, a number of children were present and their evident appreciation was an inspiration to the entertainers.

Mrs. Blanche McFadden gave a well selected group of readings from Fields, Dunbar and other writers—the "Boogah Man," with music and "Pitty Pat and Tippy Toe" were particularly effective.

Miss Gwendolin Sprenger of Jeffersonville, delighted her audience with two excellent numbers, "Pillar Fights," and "Mother Says."

Miss Esther Leland followed with "The Jiners" a very entertaining boy dialect recitation, given with this reader's imitable humor and abandon.

Mrs. Elmer Junk's winning personality was brought out in one of the most charming of the Uncle Remus' stories and amusing hissing boy dialect sketch.

The last number was an artistically rendered monologue, emphasizing both the humor and the pathos of Miss Helen McCoy's well cultivated voice. Her "Pecaninny Lullaby," was a very effective closing to a program of musical merit.

The appropriate and thoroughly enjoyable music numbers were furnished by Miss Ruth Reid and Avonell Timmons, two gifted young pianists.

The Quarterly Tea given by the Woman's Home Missionary Society of Sedalia, at the home of Mrs. Homer Hutson in Paint township proved a beautiful affair of distinctive pleasure and interest.

The home was beautiful with great shaggy chrysanthemums of various hues, and large pink geraniums.

The President, Mrs. Adda Paulin, presided, and the Vice-President Mrs. Floy Chenoweth, conducted the Devotional in a very impressive manner.

There were a number of invited guests, who with the members, thoroughly enjoyed chatting over their needlework, interspersed with delightful piano selection given by Miss Minnie Paulin and Mrs. Clara Dorn.

Assisting the hostess in serving the dainty refreshments were Mesdames Florence Hankins, Laura Dorn Esta Ellsworth, Kittle Wheaton and Misses Minnie and Martha Paulin.

At a later hour the ladies departed, expressing their appreciation of the afternoon so pleasantly spent.

St. Colman's Church was the scene of an extremely pretty wedding

Tuesday morning at eight o'clock when Miss Mary Boylan, the pretty daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boylan, became the bride of Mr. Homer Ruley, son of Mrs. Mary Ruley, of Columbus.

Rev. Father Fogarty performed the ring ceremony and the High Mass was beautifully sung, with Mrs. Oscar Kelhofer organist and soloist.

Blazing with lighted candles and elaborately decorated with roses, chrysanthemums and greenery, the altars formed a radiant background for the ceremony.

The young couple were attended by Miss Marie Myers, a cousin of the bride, as maid of honor, and the brides brother, Mr. Howard Boylan as best man.

The bride wore a smart tailored suit of Burgundy, trimmed in fur with picture hat of black velvet.

The maid was wearing a tailored suit of navy blue, with hat en suite.

A hundred guests witnessed the ceremony, which was followed by a wedding party at the home of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruley left at once for their home in Columbus on West First avenue. Mr. Ruley, who has a responsible position with the Adams Express Co., of Columbus, had the house completely furnished awaiting their coming.

Both young people have many friends in Washington and their departure was followed by a shower of good wishes.

One of the most interesting articles loaned for exhibition at the Clonian Industrial Exhibit and tea to be given at the Federated Club rooms Thursday afternoon, is a hand made spread purchased by Mrs. Sharp Davies in Scotland from an old Scottish woman, who had been two years making it. Mrs. Davies paid $200 for the spread.

Many other unusual and beautiful articles have been kindly offered for this exhibition.

Mrs. L. E. Miller and Miss Wanda Wolford gave a charming three table "Bridge" Monday evening in compliment to Mrs. Miller's sister, Mrs. H. A. Mason, of Erie Pa.

Lovely rose and buff chrysanthemums were gracefully arranged in decoration and each guest presented with a cluster of smaller chrysanthemums.

A tempting collation was served at the close of a much enjoyed game.

The Westminster Guild held session with Mrs. Austin F. Hopkins, Monday night.

There was a good attendance and the young women found much pleasure in their study of "The King's Highway," and subsequent social hour.

Mrs. Hopkins served dainty refreshments.

The Tuesday afternoon kensington club was pleasurably entertained by Mrs. Frank S. Jackson.

Mrs. W. H. White, of Logan and Mrs. H. A. Mason, of Erie, Pa., were out of town guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison F. Brown entertained at a handsome dinner Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. John Westwater, Mrs. Arbuckle, of South Charleston, Dr. and Mrs. Loring Brock.

Have They Come Back?

One of the picturesque characters among the many who disappeared with the increase of population is the old herb doctor. Those striking old peddlers of "roots and yarbs" who had everything from sassafras tea to a certain cure for cancer and consumption have passed away from this section at least.

Older folks remember well the illiterate and wise looking men who lived in the hill country, treating the scant population of their section with nature's own remedies and who descended every spring into the plains country and the more densely populated sections to take orders for the concoctions which they brewed and distilled, in the deep and silent hollows of the majestic hills, with scarcely less secrecy and mystery than that employed by the moonshiner.

Those old herb doctors, with their long hair and longer beards, crooked walking stick and dirty clothing, and yet with all maintaining an air of mystery and majesty and confidence calculated to convince the most skeptical against their will and their knowledge, have disappeared.

Hereabouts no descendants have been sufficiently attracted by the financial end of the calling to pick up and don the mantle left by the "wise men" among the early settlers.

And yet, there was some of the golden nugget of truth in what these old beggars taught too. Some of the most popular medicines on the market today are those which advertise the presence as the basic cure all of their compound nature's roots and herbs.

Perhaps the old "doctors" are back, reincarnated in some of the great patent medicine laboratories of the present day.

Monastir Restored to Serbia

Destroyed Serbia is on the way to rehabilitation. When the military bands playing the Serbian national anthem led the tired and battle scared remnants of King Peter's army through the riddled gates of the city of Monastir, marked the climax of the long and bitterly conducted campaign in the Cerna river sector the work of establishing the temporary capital of Serbia and restoring the disordered kingdom was begun.

About one year ago overwhelmed and defeated by the victorious German and Austrian armies King Peter and what remained of his disordered army fled in panic from Monastir and Serbia as a nation was obliterated.

From that day a year ago until the crest of the tide was reached in the Cerna battle which carried the Serbs again into Monastir, the Serbian people were wanderers upon the face of the earth and the nation existed only on the older maps of Europe.

King Peter and his people will now continue the fight with more heart and spirit. The resurrection of their nation means much to those stricken people and the effect is certain to be felt in the changed temper of the men in the field.

One New Law We Need

We now have state and national laws designing that expense accounts shall be filed for public inspection by all political parties and organizations and all candidates for office. In that way, barring of course false accounts and perjury the public is advised as to just how much money is spent, who spends it, in whose interest it is spent and who furnishes the money.

When those laws were yet new politicians and candidates were careful of their expenditures and the result was that for some time after the laws became operative the wholesale expenditures were curtailed very measurably.

Familiarity, however, it seems has brought contempt for the law and a total disregard for "appearances."

Gradually campaign expenditures have been increasing until in the last campaign the republican organization as shown by its expense account filed with the Secretary of State spent more than a quarter million dollars in conducting its campaign in Ohio alone.

That total is more than could be expended judiciously to say nothing of legitimately. The democratic organization spent less than one fifth as much and yet carried the state by an overwhelming majority. Quiet an evidence that public opinion in Ohio cannot be controlled by the use of money.

However, the people of the state should be spared a repetition of such expenditures by the enactment of a law which would make it illegal and impossible as well ill advised.

We need a law with teeth in it and executives with back bone to put a stop to the wholesale use of money in election campaigns even if the "expenses" are not forbidden by the strict letter of the law.

The crusade to drive money out of election campaigns as a determining factor was well launched and thus far has been effectively carried forward. Right now it seems to need just a little bolstering up.

Poetry For Today

"I'M SORRY; I WAS WRONG."

There may be virtue in the man
Who's always sure he's right,
Who'll never hear another's plan
And seek no further light;
But I like more the chap who sings
A somewhat different song;
Who says, when he has messed up things,
"I'm sorry; I was wrong."

It's hard for any one to say
That failure's due to him—
That he has lost the fight or way
Because his lights burned dim
It takes a man aside to throw
The vanity that's strong,
Confessing, "Twas my fault, I know,
"I'm sorry; I was wrong."

And so, I figure, those who use
This honest, manly phrase,
Hate it too much their way to lose
On many future days.
They'll keep the path and make the fight,
Because they do not long
To have to say—when they're not right—
"I'm sorry; I was wrong."

Fleeting Animals.

Writers of a century ago were firm in the conviction that the greyhound was the fastest living animal; some maintained that he could run a mile in a minute. Modern observers, however, have found that the best hound is by no means able to keep pace with a trained race horse. Indeed, the late J. A. Graham, a careful student of such matters, used to say that no living animal could outfoot a modern race horse.

A first rate horse running his best and not handicapped by carrying a rider can run a mile in less than 100 seconds. A fleet hound, such as those used in coursing, can run a mile in about a minute and fifty seconds. A Jack rabbit is nearly as fast, and an antelope is considerably faster. Mr. Graham thought an antelope might run a mile across the level prairie in a minute and forty-five seconds.

On the other hand, Mr. Cottar, an old African hunter, thinks that Thomson's gazelle would have no trouble whatever in running away from the fastest horse and that Grant's gazelle and the gorenuk are almost equally fleet.—Youth's Companion.

CORN BOYS' TRAINS LEAVE DECEMBER 4 ON TOUR OF EAST

The Fifth Buckeye Corn Tour of the Boys and Girls of Ohio to Washington and the East starts Monday, December 4, to be gone one week. The Board of Agriculture itself conducts this trip.

Six special trains will leave Ohio over the Pennsylvania System and concentrate at Pittsburgh. This city will entertain us for the evening on Monday, December 4th, at an Indoor Circus. We will then take our departure over the Baltimore & Ohio railroad through the mountain scenery and over the battlefields of Maryland and Virginia, reaching Washington at 10 a. m., December 5th.

Here the party will be given a cordial reception by the President and visit the National Capitol and other great buildings and historic spots; have a number of side trips, including Mt. Vernon, the shrine of American patriotism, Arlington and Ft. Meyer. Each evening we will be entertained in a special manner. From Washington we go to New York and the other great cities.

Arriving at New York, we breakfast at Hotel Astor, visit the Museum Aquarium, the tall buildings and are received by Mayor Mitchell; a boat ride up East River, under Brooklyn Bridge, to the Navy Yard and return past Ellis Island, the Statue of Liberty, down beautiful New York Bay, where floats the commerce of the world, over to Staten Island, and out to the ocean, past the frowning forts that guard New York; returning up the Hudson River, past the interned vessels of the great warring nations of Europe, up to Grant's Tomb, and Already eggs are selling at 60c to 75c a dozen in the cities. Some are predicting $1.00 eggs before spring. Do you desire to get your share of these big profits? If so, make your eggs lay by using the wonderful preparation "Prescription No. 4." It will fill your egg basket.

Why feed hens all winter and get only a few eggs? By its use a hen may be made to lay her entire life crop of eggs in one or two years. The normal time is five years. Absolutely harmless.

Saves Feed. If directions are followed, it saves all the cost of oyster shell, all the cost of beef scrap, and all the cost of charcoal. It contains no pepper, mustard, waste, or other injurious substances.

Insures easy, early and quick moult. It prevents and cures the egg-eating habit. Five pounds of Prescription No. 4 contains more egg-making material than a ton of oyster shells and 25 pounds of beef scrap combined.

Try it four months, and you will get more eggs than you ever have before in the same length of time and season of the year.

Columbus, Ohio.
It is a wonderful egg producer and feed saver as well. Many of our hens layed right through the moult last year, thanks to your Prescription No. 4. We have a capacity for 20,000 layers and intend to use it throughout our plant.

HARTMAN THEATER

(COLUMBUS)

Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, November 27, 28, 29—Matinee Wednesday—Rose Stahl in "Our Mrs. McChesney."

The Triple Alliance of Rose Stahl in the American comedy "Our Mrs. McChesney" ought to attract capacity audiences to the Hartman Theater, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, November 27, 28 and 29, when Miss Stahl will appear at this most popular Columbus theater in her latest, and many say, greatest success in many years. This new play has been taken from Edna Ferber's widely read Emma McChesney stories, the dramatization being made by George V. Hobart and Miss Ferber herself. In choosing the material from the various stories they have been extremely fortunate in selecting a chain of incidents making the whole a consistent, amusing and always interesting play.

At the beginning, Emma McChesney is discovered in a small hotel in Sandusky, Ohio, in the course of her travels in the interest of the T. A. Buck Featherloom Petticoat. In a nearby town young Jack McChesney, her son, is at school, and it is here that the undaunted Emma rescues the boy from a youthful matrimonial escapade. The action of the play shifts later to the headquarters of the Buck Company in New York, with an amusing insight into the workings of the petticoat trade. At a crisis in the affairs of the Buck Company, Emma McChesney comes to the rescue in a most unexpected manner. Comedy prevails throughout the three acts, with also touches of genuine emotion. The piece is peculiarly adapted to the unique talents of Miss Stahl. Others in the company are thirty-two in number, all clever and talented players.

MODERN NEWSPAPER METHODS PLANNED

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Columbus, O., November 21.—Modern newspaper methods may soon be inaugurated at Ohio State University if plans now under consideration mature. Wireless service between the University of Michigan and Ohio State is contemplated as both schools have wireless equipment and the sending of press matter will not only help the daily college papers at the two schools, but will give practice to students in that branch. The plan is to have news matter occurring at either school that is of interest to the other school transmitted by wireless three nights each week. It is also possible that the University of Pittsburgh will be asked to join in the plan, thus covering the college news of three states.

URGES BETTER RURAL TEACHERS

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Washington, D. C., November 21.—Prof. J. L. McBrien, School Extension Agent of the United States Bureau of Education has issued a startling statement in which he claims the rural schools of the United States are in sore need of better qualified teachers. His statement follows:

"At least one-third of the rural teachers for the country at large have no professional training. The average scholarship of this class of untrained teachers is little more than an eighth grade education. There are 212,000 one-teacher rural schools in the United States. It is conservative, therefore, to say that there are 70,000 rural teachers in this country with only an elementary education and no professional training. There is one State in the Union that has over 4,000 teachers, with only a seventh-grade education and no professional training, in charge of its rural schools this year. There are several States that number their rural teachers in this class by the thousands and there are many States that count their rural teachers in this class by the hundreds.

"Another third of the rural teachers of the United States have only a limited amount of professional training and on an average their scholarship is not above the tenth grade, that is, a two-year high school education beyond the eighth grade. There are at least 70,000 teachers in this class.

"A majority of the remaining one-third of the rural teachers of our country have on the average only a four-year high school education which includes from one to two years attendance at a State normal school or the professional work given in the junior and senior years in teacher-training high schools, or several summer terms at summer schools for teachers.

"These are the conditions that face us in the qualifications of our rural teachers. The problem that confronts us is how to improve these conditions. It is the purpose of the Bureau of Education to issue a series of talks in an effort to show the country how to solve this most important problem in American education today. The fact that we have over 150,000 teachers without adequate preparation for their work is enough to arouse the public mind on this question to such a degree that within the next decade, we shall have a sufficient number of teachers with adequate training for every rural school in the United States."

OHIO STATE DAY

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Columbus, Ohio, November 21.—Plans for the suitable celebration of Ohio State Day, December 1, are now being completed by the committee of 88, a student organization composed of one student from each county in the state of Ohio. The celebration will be held not only in the state, however, but in almost every state in the union, and is expected to center around the new university songbook, which will be issued within a few days.

The campus celebration will consist of a musical comedy, featuring various campus scenes, after which will be a "sing," in which the new song book will be used. The celebration will wind up with a torchlight procession and dancing.

SOUNDS CATCHING

(By American Press)
Williamsport, Pa., Nov. 21.—With nearly 500 women in attendance the annual convention of the Pennsylvania Woman Suffrage association opened here today. Dr. Anna Howard Shaw is one of the notable national suffrage workers in attendance. Prominent state leaders include Mrs. Gifford Pinchot and Miss M. Carey Thomas, president of Bryn Mawr college.

The principal business of the convention is the planning of the fight before the next state legislature for another referendum on the suffrage amendment. The legislative committee conducted an active pre-election campaign and reported today they have pledges of support from a large percentage of legislators elected at the recent election. It was announced at the opening session today that the slogan of the Pennsylvania suffragists has been changed from "Votes For Women" to "Ballots For Both." The convention will close Friday.

BIG TALK

Agitation Started For State Wide Local Option Law.

New York, Nov. 21.—"Little old New York will be dry by 1920 or forced to go out on the Atlantic to get its drinks."

This prediction by the Rev. J. V. Chalmers, rector of Holy Trinity church, set New York thinking. The liquor men were especially interested. While some jeered at the idea of this stronghold of alcohol becoming "white" territory, many privately admitted they agreed with the general trend of the clergyman's remarks while believing it might take longer to force the change than the four years he granted.

More stringent laws and other causes have greatly reduced the number of saloons in New York this year. In the whole state 600 went out of business on Oct. 1 last. Only part of the cities of the state have the right to say whether they shall be wet or dry, but a strong fight for a statewide local option law will be made in the next session of the legislature at Albany.

Saloonkeepers agree their business is less profitable than ever before. For one thing, the moving picture theaters hurt them.

Dr. Chalmers' prediction was made at the convention of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of New York. After a long discussion the convention went clearly on record for total abstinence and a state optional prohibition bill.

SOAKED BY COURT

(By American Press)
Chicago, Nov. 21.—Reversing the old "single standard" of morality observed by courts, Judge Harry M. Fisher fined nine men arrested in a hotel raid and permitted the women who accompanied them to go free. He announced that he hopes to strike at the root of the vice problem by pursuing this policy hereafter.

SEINERS ARE FOUND GUILTY AND FINED $25

Men Whom State Refused to Prosecute Are Found Guilty as Charged and Each Man Is Fined—Case to Be Carried to Higher Court, Say Accused.

Justice T. N. Craig, Tuesday just before noon, handed down a decision in the seining case against ten Sabina men, finding each of the men guilty as charged and assessing a fine of $25 and the costs, with commitment to the Xenia workhouse until paid.

Notice of appeal to the common pleas court was given, and the case continued until December 1st in order that the necessary proceeding for appealing the case may be carried out.

The taking of evidence was concluded Monday afternoon and court adjourned until Tuesday morning, at Virginia.

which time the arguments were made to the court, Attorney H. M. Rankin for the State and Attorney J. D. Post for the defendants.

There was considerable variance in the testimony given by some of the accused men concerning the catching of bass and the return of the bass to the creek.

Former Deputy Game Warden, H. D. Pavey, testified that the party had caught ten or fifteen inch bass, and that he had thrown them back into the creek. Others testified that the party had caught no bass at all. They had seen no fish thrown back into the stream.

There was considerable variance over the taking of a turtle at the same time. Two or three of the witnesses had seen the turtle while other had not seen it.

The men are H. D. Pavey, Fred Cole, Cliff Roberts, E. R. Mills, Dr. J. S. Parrett, David Polk, Dr. Herbert Armstrong, Gage Grove and Sampson Grove, all of Sabina and surrounding territory.

DR. E. C. HAMILTON DIES AT AGE OF 81

In the death of Dr. Edward C. Hamilton at his home on East Market St. Monday evening at 4:15 o'clock Washington loses another of her widely known and respected citizens, who since 1865 has resided in Washington and been interested in the welfare of the community.

Dr. Hamilton had been ill for several months, never having fully recovered from an illness of last winter, and for some four weeks his condition was such that he was confined to his bed.

Sunday night he became much weaker and soon relapsed into a semi-conscious condition and gradually became weaker until shortly after four o'clock, when the Death Angel came quietly and he passed into the Great Beyond, at the advanced age of 81 years.

For a great many year after coming to this city from Xenia, Dr. Hamilton was engaged in the practice of dentistry, and built up a large patronage.

During the Civil War he served with distinction in the 154th Ohio Volunteer Infantry, and has always been an active member of the G. A. R. Since 1881 he has been an active member of Fayette Lodge, I. O. O. F. in which order he always manifested great pride. He served as Secretary of the society for many years, and last year he was presented with a Veteran Odd Fellow Jewel by the order, as an indication of the high esteem in which he was held by the order. He also was associated with the Methodist Episcopal Church, and a constant attendant.

The deceased leaves, besides his widow, four children: George of Xenia; Mrs. Grace Weir, of New York City; Stoddard, of Indianapolis, Ind.; and Carl, of Davenport, Iowa. Mr. George Hamilton was the only child who arrived before the death of Dr. Hamilton. Mr. and Mrs. Stoddard Hamilton arrived from Indianapolis, Tuesday morning, and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh C. Weir and Mr. Carl Hamilton and family are expected Tuesday night or Wednesday morning.

Funeral services will be announced later.

CHERRY HOTEL RESTAURANT OPENS

The new Cherry Hotel restaurant opens its doors at noon today and stepped at once into the favor of the public.

It was the freely expressed opinion that Washington has acquired, in the change made in the Hotel dining service a most up-to-date restaurant—one that meets the demand of both the traveling public and "home folks."

It is a departure in many ways from any cafe previously opened here and one of the handsomest and most perfectly equipped restaurants, both ala carte and self-service, in this part of the state. Its claims to praise are manifold—modern, clean, new and attractive, excellent food, properly cooked and very reasonably priced.

If the impression had gone out that because of its hotel connection prices would be higher, that impression was entirely done away with altho the high standards of the Cherry were maintained in deliciously cooked foods.

The intention of the new management is to cater to "home folks" and Fayette people and to give them the best there is.

The restaurant, all in tans and creams, beautifully decorated in banks of ferns and chrysanthemums by florist Jansen and shining with its new furniture and equipment, was a most inviting place.

It was generously patronized by both town people and hotel guests and it was well that the managers had made bountiful provision of four turkeys only the bones were left and everything else cleaned out in proportion.

Victrola music contributed to the opening and everybody had a good time as well as a good dinner. Managers Griffiths and Armatout were well pleased with the opening day.

CALIFORNIA'S VOTE SOLID

Little Likelihood That Electoral Vote of Golden State Will Be Divided.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

San Francisco, November 21.—Little likelihood of a split electoral vote in this state was seen here today by Republicans, who have checked unofficial election figures of fifty of the state's fifty-eight counties.

President Wilson's plurality, according to the check of the Republicans, will not be less than 3,416.

NEWSPAPER MEN TO BE PROMINENT

Incoming State Administration Will Have Many Newspapermen.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Columbus, O., November 21.—Ohio newspaper men are to be well represented in the state capital when the new administration takes office. Appointments and elections already known show a number of men from the newspaper profession in state offices.

Governor-elect Cox is an editor and owns two newspapers. His secretary-to-be, Charles E. Morris, was a newspaper man before he became publicity director for the Democratic State headquarters.

Lieutenant Governor-elect Earl Bloom, edits a paper in Wood county, and State Auditor Donahey was formerly editor of a country newspaper.

Attorney General-elect McGhee owned a newspaper in Jackson at one time, and State Treasurer-elect Bryan is editor and publisher of the Madison County Democrat. His newspaper record is probably the best, in point of years, as his father organized his paper 60 years ago and Mr. Bryan, who is 57 years old, has been more or less associated with the paper most of those years.

Mr. Bryan, who lives at London, has also held important offices in Ohio press associations, and for ten years was a member of the executive committee of the National Press Association.

ELECTION BOARDS TO GET EXTRA PAY

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Columbus, O., November 21.—Members of county boards of election are entitled to extra compensation for work done at the presidential primary on April 25, according to a decision of the Supreme Court today in a Tuscarawas case.

Attorney General Turner had held that election board members were not entitled to extra compensation for this work.

GERMANY REPLIES TO U. S. NOTE

Secretary Grew, of Embassy at Berlin, Is Given Teutonic Version of Sinking of British Steamer, Rowanmore.

(Associated Press Cable.)

Berlin, November 21. — Secretary Joseph T. Grew of the United States Embassy received today the German reply in regard to the sinking of the British steamer Rowanmore, and three steamers which were sunk last September.

In regard to the Rowanmore, the German government denies that the submarine fired on lifeboats containing members of the crew, and maintains that the men on the Rowanmore owe their lives to the precautions taken by the Germans and the skill with which their operations were carried out.

In respect to two of the remaining steamers in question, the German government states that they were not sunk by German forces, and maintains that the Antwerpen, the third steamer, was destroyed in full accordance with the rules of international law.

The Antwerpen was built at Newport News for the Standard Oil Co., and was on her maiden trip to London when she was sunk. She was a vessel of 11,300 tons.

DUFFEE'S COUGH SYRUP
THE HISTORY OF THIS MEDICINE is as follows: I had a cold and cough and it was getting very serious. I could get nothing to do me any good, so I decided to make a compound of my own, and I commenced taking it, and in a short time it cured me sound and well. I know this remedy will cure a deep-seated cough that is verging into consumption. I have plenty of living witnesses who will testify to the merits of this syrup. It is purely vegetable and contains no opiates, and could be given in any quantity and not harm the most delicate. It is especially fine for children.
Yours,
J. W. DUFFEE.

TESTIMONIALS

Washington C. H., O., Nov. 10, 1915.
Have used Duffee's Cough Syrup the past 28 years in a family of 4 children. The youngest tot fairly screamed for the syrup. It is pleasant to take and we highly recommend it for the youngest to the oldest member of any family.
MRS. JESSE BLACKMORE, S. Main Street.

Washington C. H., November 4, 1915.
This is to certify that I have used Duffee's Cough Syrup and I heartily recommend it to anyone having a cough or sore throat as being one of the best cough syrups on the market, and just about twice the amount for the money. Knowing the ingredients it is made of, I can say they are all good and perfectly harmless.
R. C. PEDDICORD.

Washington C. H., Ohio, November 2, 1915.
Having used Duffee's Cough Syrup in my family I can recommend it highly as a quick relief and sure cure for coughs and colds.

I used Duffee's Cough Syrup for a cough that had been hanging to me for a long time, and my friends said that I was going into consumption, and I can say that it cured me sound and well.

PUT AGREEMENT UP TO MEXICANS

Lane to Present Terms and Force the Issue.

AMERICANS ARE OPTIMISTIC

Appear Confident That the Joint Commissioners Will Reach an Agreement on Border Control and Other Points in Controversy—Withdrawal of Punitive Expedition Not the Big Question.

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 21.—Secretary of the Interior Lane returned here from Washington fortified by the assurance of President Wilson that he will back the American representatives in their efforts to reach a settlement of the questions at issue between Mexico and the United States.

Mr. Lane immediately went into a conference with Dr. J. R. Mott and Judge George Gray, the other American commissioners, informing them in detail of the conference he had at Washington with the president.

Luis Cabrera and his colleagues on the Mexican-American joint commission will be formally told this afternoon by Lane on just what terms an agreement providing for the withdrawal of the American punitive expedition and the protection of life and property along the international border may be reached.

American members of the commission appear confident that the end of the conference is in sight. Their propositions have been reduced to writing and it is understood will admit of little debate.

The Mexicans appeared not to take a pessimistic view of the situation. Mr. Cabrera again assuring newspaper men that he was very hopeful of an amicable adjustment. There was no evidence, however, that he was prepared to recede from his position so long maintained that agreement to the plan of the Americans was out of the question.

Whether Ignacio Bonillas and Alberto J. Pani, the other members of the Mexican commission, were prepared to stand by Mr. Cabrera, could not be determined. They have been disposed of late to agree with the Americans on the plan suggested, and it was the opposition of Mr. Cabrera that prevented a settlement.

The greatest question is not the withdrawal of General Pershing's troops. They will be called back when the American government is convinced that it can be done without jeopardizing the safety of the border. The more debatable question is the method of controlling the border after they have been taken out. The Mexicans will not be permitted to place restrictions on the manner in which the American government may protect its border nor on the manner in which it may punish marauding bandits.

FIGHT IS ON

Turner's Charge Against Campaign Committee.

Columbus, Nov. 21.—Attorney General Turner openly accused the Republican state campaign committee of disloyalty toward his candidacy for re-election by financing interests that were striving to cause his defeat.

Mr. Turner declared it was a case of commercial politicians fighting for party organization control and that while he did not expect to be a candidate for office again, he proposed to continue to fight for "clean politics." He said in the recent campaign the Republicans gave funds to representatives of the Geiger-Jones company of Canton, who were fighting him in every county in the state.

Turner's statement was provoked by the charge of C. C. Philbrick, True Democracy member of the state board of administration, in his publication, that Turner had been "flirting" with the opponents of Governor Willis. Turner emphatically denied this and added that he stumped the state in behalf of Governor Willis and not once sought support for himself.

Mr. Turner in his statement says: "I have no complaint to make against the Geiger-Jones company or others similarly situated for their fight upon me, but when a state executive committee takes my money and turns it over to my enemies and in addition thereto it is hinted by their defenders that I have not been loyal, I am ready for more fight and propose to let the people of Ohio judge where the disloyalty lies. I am satisfied that Governor Willis had nothing whatever to do with any phase of this matter."

GETTING READY FOR THE INTERNATIONAL

Preparation for the International Live Stock Exposition is not an overnight task. Weeks before the exhibits are installed a small army of workers take possession of buildings and grounds.

This season an unusually strenuous effort is being made to insure the comfort of exhibitors and visitors. The two sets of buildings north and south of Forty-third street have been connected by an overhead bridge, furnishing facilities to care for expansion. Improvements are being made everywhere, and when the 1916 exhibits are installed next month, exhibitors will realize the benefit of these changes.

It has been the policy of the International Live Stock Exposition since its inception to provide adequate facilities for exhibitors and visitors. As demands have increased space has been enlarged, improvements made and other expenditures authorized, calculated to insure the success and progress of the enterprise.

MANY ARE FLEECE OUT OF THEIR DIMES

The postoffice department is issuing a warning to the public not to send money to the National Mail Order Brokerage Co., of Minneapolis, Minn., as it is a fraudulent concern and the operators have skipped.

The operators, who are said to have fleeced many women in this part of Ohio, advertised to send any woman a silk petticoat who would send them 10c and write a letter telling of the offer to five of her friends.

At the present time there are about 500,000 letters in the Minneapolis postoffice for the concern, and it is believed that each envelope contains a dime.

FARMERS WANT OLD ROAD REPAIR LAWS

At a big meeting of farmers held in Chillicothe, and attended by members of the State Highway Commission, the manner of building roads and repairing roads was discussed, and most of the farmers favored a return to the old method of working out the road tax as in bygone years.

The farmers did not favor paved roads, but favored properly constructed macadam pikes.

A committee was named to go to neighboring counties and interest the farmers in a similar movement.

CHASED FAMILY OUT WITH BUTCHER KNIFE

Samuel Miller, of Frankfort, has been placed under arrest and is now in the Ross County jail for endeavoring to kill his family with a butcher knife.

The man was intoxicated and seized a knife with the avowed intention of killing his wife and six children, who fled from home and escaped.

C. H. & D. AT WORK ON BIG IMPROVEMENT

The C. H. & D. has a large gang of men at work on the new Scioto River bridge east of Chillicothe, and other extensive improvements are to be made which will require eighteen months to complete.

The bridge is to be raised four feet and set on new piers, and the grade must be carried out for miles in both directions.

WONDERFUL AUTUMN BEAUTIES SHOWN IN EXHIBITION OF CHRYSANTHEMUMS

Flowers worth thousands of dollars were placed on public view in the American Museum of Natural History, New York, for a brief exhibition. They included chrysanthemums as big as a man's head, orchids of every known variety, roses of every hue but blue, carnations, begonias, dahlias and simple pinks. With many palms, ferns and other plants, they comprised the annual exhibit of the Horticultural Society of New York.

A private view for members of the society and their friends was attended by more than 7,000, including the foremost horticulturists in the east and wealthy persons who have made floral culture their hobbies.

"It was the largest opening night and the best show we ever had," said

F. R. Pierson, chairman of the society's board of directors. "Last year 1,400 people were here the first night and 96,000 on the Sunday the exhibit was open. The mild weather has enabled us to show finer blossoms than ever before."

He pointed to a large bush of blossoms sprayed up from a single pot. It was the exhibit of Adolph Lewisohn. On his spreading bushes are from 1,800 to 2,000 blossoms—white, yellow, bronze. Other exhibitors prominent in the chrysanthemum class are Frederick Lewis of Ridgefield, Conn., and W. B. Thompson of Yonkers. The orchids of Clement Moore of Hackensack are declared to be the finest collection in this country.

Prize winners in the rose room included Richard Delafield H. M. Tilford, Daniel Guggenheim and Mrs. W. D. Slagge, who with Henry Goldman of Deal, divided honors in carnations.

BEHIND THE LINES IN NORTH FRANCE

(Associated Press Cable)

Amsterdam, Netherlands, November 21.—According to information gleaned from several hundred refugees from the occupied regions of northern France, who have been passing through Holland, the Germans have prepared positions far behind their present front. They are, it is said, reckoning more and more on the possibility of a retreat to the Belgian frontier. The positions near Maubeuge and Hautmont are even more formidable than those north of Lille. The old forts are deserted, for, taking full account of the new methods of warfare, the Germans have constructed a network of trenches, and great earthen caverns made with the aid of reinforced concrete and iron.

News comes from northern France as well as from Belgium of the increasing number of the population who are being put to work by the Germans. The normal industries have long been stopped, but some manufacturing are veritable beehives of activity. This is the case, for instance, in the Lille suburb of Fives, where French and Belgians are employed in the manufacture of ammunition.

GLORIA'S ROMANCE

Of Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Hughes

Novelized from the Motion Picture Play of the same name by George Kleine.

SYNOPSIS.

Pierpont Stafford, with his daughter Gloria, is wintering at Palm Beach. Gloria is a vivacious but willful young lady who chafes under the restraining hand of her father. She is a runaway and escapes. Her childish capers cause young Doctor Royce to fall in love with her. Becoming lost in the everglades she falls into the hands of the Seminole Indians. Gloria falls in love with her rescuer, Freneau. Five years later she leaves school and meets Freneau at the theater. He has forgotten Gloria. Later Freneau persuades her to forgive him. Gloria's sister-in-law, Lois, becomes intensely jealous and Doctor Royce discovers in her a letter, comes from Freneau. She replies but her telegrams are returned. She accidentally sees the supposed suicide of Freneau reported in the paper. Gloria swears to find the murderer of her lover. Royce tells what he knows of Freneau to Mr. Stafford. They seek to prevent scandal from enveloping Gloria. She accuses them of conspiracy against her. Gloria goes to David's country home. She meets Royce who has at once. Gloria insists on going to Palm Beach. Again she sees Mulry there. He leaves for the North. She is recognized by her one-time captor, the young Indian chief. He tells her that Royce and not Freneau was her rescuer at that time. Gloria attends night court, she sees Mulry there, also the tramp who attacked Freneau. But Judge Freeman releases him. She follows the tramp when he leaves the court and falls into the hands of hold-up men. She finds herself in a low saloon dance hall, and is selected by one of the patrons as his partner. Doctor Royce, however, follows her and when he attempts a rescue, calls down a riot on their heads. The hall is raided and the crowd, including Gloria and Royce, are arrested and taken before Judge Freeman. The newspapers feature Gloria's arrest. Reporters surround the house. Casimir arrives with the child Gloria, promised to adopt. She orders Royce to take Casimir's wife to the Stafford home. She follows Trask and lands on a houseboat to hear him accused of Freneau's murder. She confronts him; he imprisons her, but she ties him up and escapes. In the yacht Gloria and the men pursue the barge. Trask fires on them as they near him.

The wild and ruthless Lois had given up her perilous intrigues. Indeed, if she could give herself to the monotony of ministering to the lonely and the sick and take pleasure and pride in such service as a substitute for a social lawlessness that had made her hateful in Royce's eyes.

As he rode on into the city he felt a great elation. He was not a religious man, but he loved a wholesome, healthful soul as well as a body that was clean and well. He had kept Gloria from learning of Lois' affair with Freneau for Gloria's own sake. Now he believed that under cover of the deception Lois' own soul had been enabled to redeem itself.

He felt that Lois had earned the right to have back the letters she had sent to Freneau. Whether she would wish to destroy them or keep them as a reminder and warning from her evil past, they belonged to her and to no one else. Certainly Royce had no further use for them.

When he reached his office and gathered up his instruments he took the package of letters from the safe and put them in his pocket. Then he returned to the motor and sped back to the Stafford country home.

It was a long ride, and he was troubled about many things, about Gloria's determination to probe into the secrets that could mean only a cruel disillusionment for her, about the chances for Trask's recovery, and the dangers that threatened the Staffords if the newspapers or the police learned with what independence of the law the prisoner Trask had been captured and held. He wondered at his own constancy in the matter, and he shuddered to think how many illegal acts are constantly committed by the most respectable people.

When he reached the Stafford estate he stopped the driver of his car and got out, telling the man to take the case of instruments up to the house. Royce had seen Lois strolling about the lawn in a mood of solemnity. He felt that the time was appropriate for the surrender of the letters. He wondered if he had the right to deliver them over to her. Yet he knew that he had no right to keep them. It seemed that he had so tangled himself in the net of the Freneau affair that anything so ever he did was bound to be wrong.

He hurried to Lois and called to her. She turned to him sadly and weakly. He knew too much about her for to face him without shame. He brought a little smile of relief to her along with a swift blush of guilt when he said: "Lois, I have decided to give back to you the letters you sent to Freneau. I read only one of them, and I have forgotten, I think, what it said. I think you have earned them back, and I advise you to burn them up at the first opportunity."

He took the long envelope from his pocket and her hand was just moving forward to take it when he saw her blush vanish in a flash of pallor. "My husband!" she whispered. Royce thrust the envelope back in his pocket just before he felt David's hand on his shoulder and turned to look into David's smile of comradeship.

Royce had to play-nip with all his might to pretend a cheer that he was far from feeling. Once more the lonthsome phase of deceit was uppermost. He could not control himself under David's eyes and he made an excuse to move on.

OFFICERS CALL ON WILSON

Trainmen Determined That the Adamson Eight Hour Law Shall Not Be Broken Down—Seek Working Agreement With Railroad Men of the Federation of Labor—Adamson Feels Law Is Constitutional.

Washington, Nov. 21.—Determined that the Adamson eight hour law shall not be broken down, officials of the railway brotherhoods conferred with President Wilson, Attorney General Gregory and their legislative representatives, and declared their purpose to aid the government in every way in fighting injunction suits against the law.

The brotherhood heads made further plans for perfecting a working agreement with their allies, the railroad men of the American Federation of Labor.

When the government attorneys, G. Carroll Todd, assistant to the attorney general; Assistant Attorney General Underwood and Frank Hagerman, appear in the federal court at Kansas City next Thursday to oppose the Union Pacific and Atchafalaya, Topeka and Santa Fe suits against the Adamson law, they will be flanked by representatives of the brotherhoods. It is probable that the four brotherhood heads themselves will be there.

Great significance is attached to the announcement that the brotherhood officials will address the American Federation of Labor convention in Baltimore. Never before in the history of the two organizations have any of their members met in joint session, but their meeting at Baltimore will be the result of a carefully worked out agreement that the two forces shall join hands in working for the general betterment of the organized railway employees.

After receiving the brotherhood heads and Chairman Adamson, author of the eight hour law, President Wilson virtually finished his message to congress, in which he will recommend completion of the railway legislative program outlined by him at the last session. These recommendations include provisions for the enlargement of the interstate commerce commission and for compulsory investigation of proposed strikes. The latter is bitterly opposed by the brotherhood leaders.

After their fifteen minute conference with the president, the brotherhood heads would admit only that they congratulated Mr. Wilson on his re-election. Warren S. Stone, head of the engineers, declared that he could not tell now whether a strike would be called if the eight hour law was not put into effect Jan. 1. "We can tell that better later," he said.

Representative Adamson went over plans for railroad legislation fully with the president. Afterwards he said that he had no doubt that the eight hour law would be upheld by the courts as constitutional, adding the measure was very carefully framed by lawyers fully familiar with the situation and with the constitution.

LAND OLD TIMER

(By American Press)

Punxsutawney, Pa., Nov. 21.—Probably the oldest prisoner ever arraigned before any bar of justice plead guilty to selling liquor here. He is George Ambler and was born in Russia 103 years ago. Ambler served fifteen years in the Russian army, fighting all through the Crimean war. He came to this country when he was seventy. Still a powerful man, he worked in the mines at Elderton for ten years until he was caught by a cave-in. His back was broken, but his wonderful constitution pulled him through and he finally became able to get around. For many years he has practically been a public charge, but when Jefferson county went dry he came into a new source of livelihood. His arrest for selling liquor followed. Judge Corbett committed the aged prisoner to the county home.

ROUMANIAN FORCE MAY BE CUT OFF

Rear Menaced By Teutonic Drive Through Wallachia.

HARD PRESSED ON FRONT

Entente Allies Claim Complete Victory in the Recent Fighting in Macedonia—Austrians Capture Heights on Italian Front—Greek Situation Again Reported Grave—Review of Day's Operations.

London, Nov. 21.—Roumania is again the center of interest.

Driving eastward through western Wallachia, the Teutonic forces now are reaching out for Craiova, lying on the railroad midway between the Danube town of Orsova, Hungary, and Bucharest.

This maneuver apparently places a menace in the rear of the retreat of the Roumanians fighting on northern Hungarian soil and disputing with the Austro-Germans the passages of the Transylvania Alps, leading to the plains of Wallachia.

In the Jial valley region the retirement of the Roumanians continues, and in the Campulung sector Petrograd reports that further Roumanian attacks against the Teutonic allies have been successful. On the Danube front in Dobruja artillery engagements are in progress from Silistria to Olina.

The fighting in Macedonia, from the Cerna river to Lake Prespa, has ended in a complete victory for the entente allied troops, says the Paris war office.

The Serbs have not yet entered Monastir, the town having been virtually destroyed, according to unofficial accounts. The entente forces have occupied villages to the north of the town and are declared to be still in pursuit of the Germans and Bulgarians. Reports say, however, that the newly chosen positions fixed for their retirement north of Monastir have been entered by the Germans and Bulgarians without pressure from their antagonists, and also that new German forces have reached the fighting zone.

German artillery on the Somme front near Beaumont-Hamill and Guedecourt and on the Verdun sector near Douaumont have heavily shelled British and French positions. Strong forces of Austrians, in an assault on the summit of Hill 126 on the Carso front of the Italian theater, have captured Italian trenches.

Cold weather has set in on the Russian front and as a consequence little fighting is going on there.

The situation in Greece apparently has reached another of its critical stages. Following the demand by the entente for the turning over of virtually all the arms, artillery and munitions of the Greek army, it is reported that the ministers of the central powers have been ordered by the entente powers to leave Greece by Wednesday.
